This box set owes its existence first of all to Les Archives françaises du film and its technical staff, who, with Renato Berta, took care to make the most of the source material we had available, and to Dominique Toussaint, the Audio Supervisor.

It owes its existence next to Jean-Paul Archie / Éditions Ombres. Without his unconditional involvement from the start, his constant and reassuring support, nothing would have been possible.

It owes its existence finally to Éditions Montparnasse and Vianney Delourme. Continuing with their commitment to publishing DVD versions of the films of Danièle Huillet and Jean-Marie Straub, they accepted this special project straightaway. Here you have the organisation that's indispensable!

Then there are the friends. At times I called upon them in a completely impromptu way, and they were all ready to be of service. You were there to do what was needed, at the specific time, to move the project forward. Since its progression was sometimes unpredictable, a good amount of flexibility and availability was necessary on your part. I am grateful to:

Annick Bouleau, Bertrand Brouder, Christophe Clavert, Bernard Eisenschitz, Helmut Färber, Caroline Hartmann, Jean-Pierre Laforce, Jean-Marc Montaigne, Giorgio Passerone, Benoît Turquety, Klaus Volkmer, and Antonia Weiße. But also everyone at Éditions Montparnasse and at CMC!

We also express our thanks to VARAtelevisie and the Nederlands Instituut voor Beeld en Geluid / Johan van Rooy for making Henk de By's documentary available free of charge; to Émilie and Fanny Deleuze for the excerpt from Gilles Deleuze's lecture; and to Francis Guermann, Marc Trivier and the Filmmuseum München for the Sammlung Heiner Roß / Nachlaß Joachim Wolf negatives. And, of course, to Christiane and Hans Drewanz, and Alice and Nikolaus Harnoncourt.

From all of us, I believe: J.-M. S., thank you, thank you, thank you.
